

CG-Accessories...

Undergloves against thermal risks

Application:

- Hand protection against thermal hazards up to 100°C.
- These undergloves are worn under insulating gloves for protection against thermal hazards of an electric arc.
- The use of undergloves also protects against possible latex allergies and ensures better hygiene for the user.
- Excellent dexterity.

Features:

- PPE category II according to the Regulation 2016/425 .
- Material: 100% Meta Aramid.
- Complies with general protective ISO 21420.
- Complies with protective gloves against thermal risks EN 407 : Fire performance : 4 , Contact heat : 1, Convective heat : 2.

Composition:

- Packaging : Unitary bags.

Reference	Description	Length (mm)
	Composition
CG-37	Heat and flame para-aramid undergloves, unic size, EN 420 EN 407	280